CLIMATE

Strong continental influence and being the highest mountain to the south of the Tagus River, it has 2 very different climates. In the north-facing area it is quite windy and cool, however on the south-facing slopes it has a very high thermal range in summer with extremely hot days and cool nights, allowing for a balanced ripening of the grapes.

SOIL

Poor and of granitic origin with a lot of stony, deep and with high inclination.

WINEMAKER

Paolo Nigra

TASTING

Concentrated ruby colored wine, complex and intense aroma showing Bouquet from the stage in bottle and with very present notes of black fruit, spices, light toast and balsamic. In the mouth it is a wine that fills in layers, with fine tannins very present and with a fresh and persistent finish.

Serve at a temperature of 18°C.

VINIFICATION

Grapes picked up by hand in small boxes and transported to the cellar where they were disengaged and gently crushed. Cold maceration of 3 days and spontaneous fermentation with a temperature control just to not let it exceed 30°C. 1 daily "Délestage" and 2 manual reassembly with air for better color fixation and integration of aromas. Maceration in the masses of 23 days. Malolactic fermentation and aging for 24 months in new 225 liter French oak barrels.

HARVEST

The 2015/2016 wine year was a particular year with a winter with above average and rainy temperatures. The spring, however, was colder and with a lot of precipitation and the summer, hot and dry. The vegetative cycle was delayed and the harvest took place on 20 September, which allowed the harvest to escape the warmer season and the maturation to be exceptional and slow and with an excellent health condition of the grapes resulting in a concentrated but very balanced wine with potential internship.
