TASTING

It presents a deep ruby color, intense aroma of ripe red fruits with nuances of black plum. In the mouth it presents solid and well present tannins, with an elegant and deep finish.

Serve at a temperature of 18°C.

VINIFICATION

On shale soil, a heavily laminated metamorphic rock. Rich in nutrients, this soil also has the useful property of water retention. Baixo Corgo is located at the western end closest to Serra do Marão, where rainfall and vineyard yields are highest. The Douro has its own microclimate, which is one of the most important reasons for the quality and style of its wines. The most important geological feature responsible for this is the mountain range already referred to as "Marão" that protects you from the influence of the Atlantic Ocean, giving it a continental climate such as hot, dry summers and wetter winters.

12 months in French oak barrels.
